NUMBER 43.

Makes Second Appointment.

Gov. Beckham, Saturday, appointed Walter P. Lincoln Judge of Jefferson county to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Judge Charles A. Wilson. Judge Lincoln was sworn in in the afternoon and assumed the duties of this office. The Governor will not announce his other appointments until the middle of this week.

Bourbon Circuit Court.

In the Bourbon Circuit Court Friday the trial of Sallie Lair's trustee vs. Joe Houston resulted in verdict for defendant Houston.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Green Jackson, for the murder of John Alex Rice, was then called.

The evidence showed mitigating circumstances, and a verdict for involuntary manslaughter fixing his punishment at a fine of $240 and costs, which he paid. Judge Stout then resumed consideration of the equity docket, taking up the case of E. M. Dickson, trustee of A. W. Wright, vs. John Wright. Arguments were heard and the Judge took time to hand down his decision.

County Attorney T. E. Moore, Jr., yesterday appealed to the Circuit Court from two decisions rendered by the Fiscal Court in the allowance of two claims to Walter Clark for the hire of mules to the county, for feed furnished and for moving camps.

Mr. Moore alleges in his petitions that Clark is a member of the firm of Mann & Clark and that the mules so hired and feed furnished belonged to the firm and not to Clark individually, and that the contract so made and allowed was in direct violation of the statute which provides that no member of the Fiscal Court can make contracts with the county.

The grand jury had the matter before them for investigation and in their report exonerated Mr. Mann of the firm of Mann & Clark, of making the contract with the county, and stated that his connection with the matter was one in which he had rendered the county a valuable service.

Saturday, the last day of the term, was consumed principally in the consideration of the equity docket, and the hearing of motions. The following persons convicted of criminal offenses were brought into court by jailer George W. Judy and were sentenced as follows: Albert Clay, five years in the State penitentiary; Julian Throckmorton, eight years; Nat Gay, life sentence; Homer Wilson, fifteen years; Henry Johnson, two years, and William Coleman five years.

The June term has been a busy one, and from the first day to the closing day Judge Stout endeavored to clean up the much congested docket, which was done to a certain extent, the cases that went over being the fault of the lawyers and not the Court.

The Beer For Family Use.

This is the season of the year to drink beer, if you drink at all. If you do, be sure you get the best. The Lion Beer is the article for family use. Recommended by physicians. We deliver to all parts of the city. Phone us your order.

Mrs. Shropshire Dies.

Mrs. Fannie Forrester Shropshire, of this city, aged about 65 years, died yesterday morning at an early hour at St. Joseph Hospital, Lexington, from abscess on the kidneys. She was a most estimable woman and is survived by three daughters and five sons.

She was the daughter of Judge R. H. Forrester, of Chicago. The funeral services will take place at the residence, on Second street, Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Rev. Carey E. Morgan officiating. Pallbearers—Edward Burke, Walter Clark, Chas. E. Butler, W. P. Hume, Dr. Silas Evans, Judge Denis Dundon.

Boy Cuts Man.

Gus Delmuth, a confectioner of Richmond, was stabbed and probably fatally wounded at Richmond Sunday by Charles Searcy, 19 years old, whom he had discharged but a few minutes before the cutting. As far as can be learned, the stabbing was the result of a quarrel between Delmuth and Searcy, which occurred over a misunderstanding about the amount of wages the lad was to receive.

The "Lid" On Tight.

The "lid" was on tight in Louisville Sunday, and it is regarded as the most successful attempt ever made to close the saloons on Sunday. Four saloon keepers were arrested for selling intoxicants, and will be cited to appear to show cause why their license should not be revoked. Liquor was sold at the pleasure parks which are in the county, and they did a rushing business, large crowds being in attendance at both.

Creams, ices and fancy drinks of all kinds at Varden's Soda Fountain.

Remarkable Demonstration.

A remarkable demonstration occurred in the Broadway Baptist church at Louisville, Sunday, when the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Carter Helm Jones, announced that he accepts a call to Lynchburg, Va., and will leave Louisville. Women wept openly and many men had tears in their eyes as their pastor left the pulpit after having preached his last sermon as minister in that church.

Farmers Institute.

Hubert Vreeland, Commissioner of Agriculture, has arranged for farmers' institutes to be held in every county in the State beginning the middle of August, and fine lecturers have been secured to conduct the discussions before the farmers of Kentucky. The itinerary has been announced. The dates for Bourbon county are Wednesday and Thursday, October 2-3.

If you take one drink at Varden's Soda Fountain you will always drink there.

Paris Has A Woman Lawyer.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. Rogers, of this city, official court reporter of the Fourteenth Judicial District, was sworn in Friday morning in the Circuit Court as a practicing attorney of the Paris bar.

Mrs. Rogers went to La Grange, Ky., Wednesday, where she was examined by Judge Robert F. Peake, Hon. J. S. Morris and Senator Sam E. DeHaven.

Mrs. Rogers is the daughter of the late Dr. J. T. McMillan, and is of a family of lawyers. She is a niece of Hon. Wm. H. McMillan and a sister of Mr. C. A. McMillan, and a cousin of Mr. Robert C. Talbot, all of whom are prominent attorneys of the Paris bar. Her late husband, Mr. Sam Rogers, was one of the leading young lawyers of this section.

Mrs. Rogers is an unusually bright young woman and a host of friends wish her success in her chosen profession. She is the first woman ever admitted to practice law at this bar.

Ice Cream Social.

Miss Bettie Ingles will hold an ice cream social at her residence, 138 Seventh street, Wednesday evening from 6 to 10. Everybody invited.

Hemp And Tobacco Crops.

Hemp fields are looming up with a luxuriant growth that indicates the crop will be one of the best ever raised in the county. Tobacco is doing nicely, the growth being rapid where proper cultivation has been resorted to. Farmers are in a cheerful mood as regards the growing crop, and though they have 65 per cent. of the 1906 crop safely bottled up in the warehouses of the Society of Equity, with 85 per cent. of the growing crop to be added to the curative process for more equitable prices, they are confident of the justness of their position and certain of the final outcome.

Record Six Months.

The April term of the Court of Appeals came to a close Friday, the court adjourning to meet in September next. During the term just concluded, the court disposed of a great deal of business. The actual number of cases decided was 475, as against 356 at the January term just preceding. This makes a total of 831 cases for the six months' record. This is probably the record six months of a good many years.

Warranted Binder Twine.

Proof Hemp Twine is warranted to work on any binder and to run 50 feet longer than Sisal.

Hocker Captured At Last.

Captain William Jenkins, of the Lexington Police Department, went to Cincinnati Sunday morning and identified Robert Hocker, the negro, who murdered D. H. Veal, a farmer, whose home was eight miles from Lexington. Hocker's crime has aroused the community in which the murder was committed, and already have the Lexington police taken steps to return Hocker without knowledge of it becoming known to friends and neighbors of Veal, who threaten violence.

Hocker admitted his identity, and made a confession, claiming the killing was done in self defense. The shooting took place about two months ago. Hocker, who is married, and has two children, owed Veal, a bachelor, $3. Hocker at various times was employed by two brothers of the deceased. It was while driving past the farm house, which Veal was whitewashing, that Hocker hailed him. The two became involved in an argument, and the negro claims Veal threw a rock at him. The latter fired the contents of a Winchester rifle at close range, killing Veal instantly. His escape caused his pursuers much concern. Captain Jenkins formerly employed Hocker, and, although this was 14 years ago, the former instantly recognized the negro at police headquarters. The negro Hocker announced his willingness to return to Kentucky with out requisition papers, and Captain Jenkins and several other officers, to be on the safe side in case Hocker was disposed to change his mind, took him to Covington, where he reiterated his confession.

Japs Want To Slip In.

Immigration officials at San Antonio, Tex., have received information that there are 4,000 Japanese in Mexico awaiting a chance to slip in to the United States. The news comes from the construction camps below Tuxpam, on the Manizillo extension of the Central railroad. Already 800 Japanese laborers have left the work, deserting in bunches with the intention of entering the United States.

The Japanese work long enough to get together enough money and then desert.

S. E. Tipton Dead.

Mr. S. E. Tipton, one of our oldest and best known citizens, died yesterday morning, at 4 o'clock, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. D. C. Parrish, on High street, from the infirmities of old age.

Mr. Tipton was born on July 29, 1817, at Portsmouth, O., which would be 90 years ago the 29th of this month. He went to Mayslick, Ky., to live in 1837 and moved from there to Mt. Sterling in 1842, where he married a Miss Wilkerson. He came to Paris in 1857 and since that time this city has been his home. He is survived by three daughters and one son—Mrs. D. C. Parrish, Frank Tipton, Miss Marie Tipton, all of this city, and Ed. A. Tipton, of New York City.

Mr. Tipton was the oldest member of Cutlers Association in the country. In many respects he was a most remarkable man. He was actively engaged in the merchant tailoring business up to a very short time ago. Coats cut and made under his direction have taken medals at the national coat shows in New York City and other places.

He was a generous hearted man, a loving and devoted father, and highly respected by all.

The funeral services will be held at the Christian church at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. Services by Elder Carey E. Morgan, assisted by Dr. E. H. Rutherford. Burial at Paris cemetery.

Pall-bearers—J. W. Davis, J. J. McClintock, J. T. Hinton, Dr. J. T. Vansant, Geo. W. Wyatt, Robt. Goggin.

Terrible Hail Storm.

As far as the memory of the oldest residents of the western part of Fayette county serves, the hail storm that swept over that section Saturday afternoon is the worst. The hail was accompanied by a high wind and heavy rain almost a cloudburst, so that the destruction was practically complete. The storm was the severest through a strip three to five miles wide, and running the entire length of Fayette county, covering an area of 40,000 acres. In many places and on many farms the corn, tobacco, hemp and gardens are totally destroyed so that it is a conservative estimate that over $200,000 damage was done the few minutes of the storm. Lightning the most vivid of the season was a feature of the storm. The large tobacco barn on the Combs farm was struck and burned to the ground. Over 200 bales of straw were burned in the barn, and the loss is estimated at $5,000.

A Business Suggestion.

Hope for the best. We all do it every day of our lives. But we cannot even "hope for the best" with any degree of comfort unless we give to life the best we have.

There are many ways of hoping for the best. That reminds us of the man who walked into a field, sat down on a pail and waited for a cow to back up and be milked.

The man who was hoping for the best. And the cow was—

But never mind about the cow. The point is that there is no use of "hoping" for anything unless you do your part.

The man who is always waiting "for something to turn up" gets left in life's race.

If you want anything go after it. The merchant who has been "up against" a backward spring and is now confronted by the usual midsummer business stagnation would better "get a move on."

Make a July 1st resolve to "hustle" for trade after the fashion of certain of the News' successful patrons.

A liberal and judicious use of printers' ink has been proved a wonderfully efficacious remedy for dull times.

Try the Bourbon News' prescription and—

Hope for the best!

A New Enemy.

Several farmers of Hillsboro neighborhood, in this county, are alarmed over the appearance in their tobacco fields of a new kind of pest and its like has never been seen by any of the older inhabitants. The bug or worm is described as a snail-like creature without its shell, very much resembling a water-leech. They have appeared in great numbers in the tobacco fields in the Hillsboro neighborhood and have literally stripped newly set tobacco patches, in some cases they have not left a plant standing in the patch. The creatures come up out of the ground and do their work quickly and thoroughly and some of the tobacco growers are preparing to replant their fields or seek new grounds wherever possible.—Springfield News.

Have you ever had the misfortune to buy a suit of clothes, wear it a short time and then wonder why you do not like it?

You can attribute the fault to one thing—cheap tailoring. This is where the unwise retailer gets his abnormal profit—the clothing looks good but only for awhile.

That is what we mean when we say the usual clothing generally costs as much as our "unusual" clothes.

We are exclusive agents of Rosenwald & Weil because we recognize that "R & W" merchandise is made to give you the satisfaction you have the right to expect.

If you think you will inspect "R. & W" clothing, that is good; if you do, that is better; if you buy, that is wisdom.

Depressed Prosperity.

When such a conservative business organ as the New York Journal of Commerce is constantly warning its readers that the condition of the money market is critical and that the associated banks of New York have about all their surplus tied up, it behooves other people to sit up and take notice. Call money is offered in New York from 2 to 3 per cent., but "accommodations to mercantile houses can scarcely be had for less than 6 per cent and the railroads would be glad to secure funds at that figure." This would indicate that the banks are cautious just now, for there is fear of the future; hence the high interest demanded on commercial and time loans, yet the Journal of Commerce says: "Money is scarce in New York."

How is it elsewhere? In all the great interior money centers, like Chicago and St. Louis, the banks have increased their loans in proportion to their deposits and surplus funds are scarce there also. In fact, the banks of the western and middle states are loaned up to the limit so that even in the event of higher interest being offered later in the year in New York there would be but little chance of western money flowing there. When the crops begin to move, which will soon happen in the Cotton and Winter wheat regions, the demand for money by the cotton and wheat buyers will begin and must be provided for and yet neither the Southern or Western banks, nor the New York banks, would seem to be in a condition to stand that strain on their resources. If the crops should prove to be light, the increased price will demand about the same amount of each to take care of them as if heavy crops prevailed and the price was less.

There is also the probability that some wholesale and country merchants will require to borrow of the banks, or seek extension of time on their accounts, because of the unseasonable weather hindering the ordinary purchases of seasonable goods, which would make a further drain on the banks, just when the crop moving season is in full force.

It would seem therefore to be wisdom on the part of ordinary people, planters, farmers and others, to keep out of debt and be cautious about purchases until good crops are assured and until the money markets are restored to their normal stability, for it may be difficult to secure temporary accommodations to meet pressing bills, especially if the crops do not meet expectations in quantity and price.

Prosperity based on tariff protection is precarious; it makes princes and paupers—commercial princes of the trust magnates and paupers of those with incomes that do not respond to trust high prices. Experience shows us that such Republican prosperity has always broken down of its own weight and financial disaster has followed very high prices. There are indications that the present boom is on the verge of collapse and it behooves wise men to be careful.

On the farmer depends our future prosperity, and if the Republican policy of protecting the trusts could be abolished, so that the farmers and consumers would not be compelled to pay protection prices for what they buy, a year of light crops could be passed over without disaster. But as it is we must have big crops and high prices to be able to pay the trusts and corporations enough toll to keep them from a bankruptcy that would effect everyone. Keep your eye on the crops.

Williams of Mississippi.

The canvass of Mississippi by John Sharp Williams and Gov. Vardman for United States Senator has led to Mr. Williams being seriously talked of as a candidate for President. Mr. Williams combines the two great requisites as a leader, for in addition to being the most scholarly debater in the country, he also draws around him the best minds in the party by his absolute fairness and the power of his intellectual attainments.

That the people of Mississippi should bring him forward as her favorite son will meet with endorsement in many other states, for probably no other Southern man is so well known by Democrats, North and South; for in every campaign Mr. Williams has been a volunteer to spread the doctrines of Democracy and no one has done it better.

Reciprocity Lacking.

Very naturally France and England are asking to be placed on the same footing as Germany for the admittance of their products and the State Department is trying to fix up the matter.

An arrangement will probably be made with France, but with England, where there is no protective tariff, the case is different. The Dingley act requires that the President must be satisfied that Great Britain, or any other country, has something to offer the United States that constitutes true reciprocity and as we now enjoy practical free trade with England for all of our products, although collecting enormous tariff taxes on British goods, there is no basis for a treaty. Very naturally this will lead to a feeling for reprisals in England and may cause some sort of embargo to be placed on American goods.

Meanwhile the poor consumer here is the prey of the trusts and combines which are constantly adding to the price of their products because the tariff protects those corporations in so doing. And the standpatters still declare "let well enough alone."

Another Richmond in the Field.

Now Hon. William Sulzer, Congressman and a shining light of staid old Tammany Hall, comes forward and denies that Mr. Roosevelt is carrying out Mr. Bryan's policies; because, he says that the policies which the President is executing so strenuously are Sulzer's own policies; and that Roosevelt swiped the said policies from Sulzer, and from no one else. "The President", he says, "has taken my policies—the policies of government I was advocating when he was a civil service commissioner. He is working them out to their logical conclusion." The conclusion being worked out is, that "no power in the world can prevent the renomination of President Roosevelt next year," though it pains him in the loins, side, back, groins and bladder? A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with overwork. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or feeble appetite, costal bowels, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, or "sour risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot breads and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. IN NEWPORT

Knights of Pythias Elaborately Observe Memorial Day by Decoration of Graves of Their Dead—Oration by Col. J. L. Earlywine.

Over 6000 Knights of Pythias, Uniform Rank, marshalled by Brigadier General J. E. McCracken, made a fine display Sunday afternoon in a parade over the principal streets of Newport, Kentucky. There were visiting Knights from Bellevue, Dayton, Covington, Ludlow, Lexington, Paris and other points in Kentucky. The parade was enlivened by several bands of music and also in the procession were decorated wagons containing 50 young girls who strewed flowers on the graves in Evergreen cemetery. The splendid oration was delivered by Col. J. L. Earlywine, of Paris. Below we print in full Mr. Earlywine's remarks:

With rhythmic tread, with martial music, with heroic sword, you have marched to the Silent City, not to disturb the dream of the sleeper, not with a view to coerce, not upon a mission of conquest, but to lay upon the altar of troubled sorrow the forget-me-nots of the long-ago.

Man is a dual being; carrying within himself two diametrically opposite natures. Within the deep, still chambers of his heart, he success and failure, victory and defeat, immortal life and eternal death. You have assembled, clothed in the garb of knights, because your order stands for the valor and chivalry of the past and the progress and enlightenment of the present.

The armor of the true knight is not the beaten brass nor linked steel which covers his heart, but the armor of the true knight is his heart itself.

With your spotless plume you can gain the plaudits of the listening thousands; with your daring sword you can cut away the panoply of State; with your fearless lance you can pierce the heart of empire. And yet, you can not restore the color to a faded flower, you can not bring back to the wings of the insect the gold which your fingers have filched.

Mighty armies have shaken empire to its foundation, nations have come of barbarism and flashed like the hurrying meteor across the firmament of time; structures of enduring granite, brass and yellow gold have been erected which in the shadows have crumbled and the pelting of the pitiless years have beaten into oblivion.

Man, created in the image of his Creator, may, with his science, discover, may with his oratory persuade, may with his logic convince, may with his genius convert, may with his determination conquer, but the success he attains, the empire he builds, the victory he achieves pass away as a summer's evening fades into twilight.

He can find, with inquisitive glass, the outermost star that wheels upon the frontiers of eternity; he can tunnel through the granite of the eternal hills, he can span with web of steel the yawning waters; he can breathe his genius into dull cold marble that will live on after he is gone; he can depict upon dumb canvass the tints of dawn and the rubies of the sunset; he can touch the heart-strings with the song of his eternal longing. And yet, he can not dry the tear of grief nor still the throbs of the aching heart. He can not take from death his scepter nor awaken the dull cold form of eternal sleep.

From the tomb of nineteen centuries the past is rolled away and we behold the only Jew that the world has ever known—the Jew of Nazareth. The motto emblazoned upon his escutcheon was forgiveness. His plume was Purity, his sandals Kindness, his armor the Golden Rule, his lance was Charity and his sword was—Love.

We will leave his Divinity, his God-head to the ecclesiastics. The Worker of Miracles, the Feeder of Multitudes, the Tamer of Gallies, the Watcher of Gethsemane, the Teacher of Parables, the Healer of Lepers we will turn over to the church, and look upon Him today simply as a man, as the Jew of Nazareth. He was the very bravest man that ever lived and yet the humblest—the most exalted that ever trod the earth—and still the meekest. He denounced in solemn and terrific language the short-comings of those high in office and yet was the defender of the defenseless. He that is without sin, let him cast the first stone." He counseled submission to the laws of the country under which he lived. "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's." Notwithstanding constitutions, proclamations and the innumerable statutes enacted by countless generations of the children of men, He gave to the world the only law ever necessary: "Do unto others as ye would have others do unto you." He tore, like a mole from the earth, where it lurked, blind hate from the breast of resentment; he snatched from the heartless past the veil of oblivion; he poisoned death with the venom of its own sting, he walked forever up with the grave its victory when upon the cross He exclaimed: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

He was shelter to the shelterless, father to the fatherless, friend to the friendless. Wherever a mangled form in tattered rags is soothed and bandaged by tender hands it is because of Him. Wherever an orphan's tear is dried and its little wandering feet find rest and shelter in a home in the homeless it is because of Him. Wherever a widow's prayer is heard and other hands supply food and raiment in place of those that are cold and still in death it is because of Him. Wherever tireless feet move about the still, white cot, the fevered brow of throbbing pain is cooled it is because of Him. Wherever martyred cross or sainted image from spire or steeple points forever upwards it is because of Him. Wherever a school house sits in all its majesty of light and learning it is because of Him. Wherever woman is honored or revered, wherever a human lip licks the sainted name of Mother and in the hour of trial repeats, "Lead me not into temptation," learned by the evening lamp in the long ago, it is because of Him. Wherever there is law and order and mercy and charity and kindness, it is because of Him. Wherever, in the red hell of battle, amidst the maimed, the crazed and the dying, a mangled Sister moves, with her sign of the cross, to quench the raging fever of the blood, or to hold in tender arms, while he breathes his last, mother's boy, it is because of Him. Wherever there is bravery it is because of Him. Wherever there is a government of the people, for the people and by the people, it is because of Him. Wherever there is justice, it is because of Him. Wherever an asylum, "knits up the ravelled sleeve of care," or receives within its sanctity the burdened mind "out of time and harsh like sweet bells jangled," it is because of Him. And wherever Love, snatches from the gutter the likeness of fallen man, created in the image of his creator, or with angel hands lifts from the depths of the demi-mond the brow that was once pure, the bosom that was once stained, the form that was once mother's dream and some brother's pride, some body's child and somebody's sister, and whispers to the storm of remorse and shame and the pitiless waves that lash the boundless shores of memory—"Peace, be still"—it is because of Him. Friends may prove false, honors may fade, riches may vanish, but Love remains, for Love is God.

My Brothers, you wear the insignia of Knighthood. The scepter makes the King, the plow the Yeoman, but remember, principle makes the Knight. "By their fruits shall ye know them." You may wear the uniform, bear the sword, be girded by the belt of Knighthood, but unless you follow the Jew of Nazareth you are but living lies, but whitened souls.

Within the breast of every man lies an empire broader than the domain of the Roman eagle, stretching from Babylon in the East to Britain in the West; an empire grander in its conception than pagantry and pomp of barbaric splendor; more difficult to rule than the confused nations of earth; harder to conquer than moated castle or walled city. That empire is the empire of Ego—the Empire of Self.

Pluck from your hearts the rooted malice, cleanse the "stuffed bosom" of its lurking hate, open wide the windows and let in Love that is forever knocking at the gates of the heart, keep forever before you as your motto the words of the Nazarine Jew, "Forgive them, for they know not what they do." Follow the Knight of Calvary, first let us conquer ourselves and the kingdom of the world will pay tribute at our feet.

We are standing to-day in the Garden of Sleep. But for the peaceful moods and the silent shaft, it would be a land so beautiful that God seems to have created it with a smile and the smile to have crystallized upon the hillsides. The air is redolent with the songs of awakening nature and spring seems to murmur among the blossoms of the Resurrection. And yet, neither the rains nor buds of spring, neither the suns nor flowers of summer, neither the winds nor leaves of autumn, nor the snows of solemn winter, neither the murmur of the pines nor the thunders sullen roar disturb the dream of the sleeper. "Men may come and men may go," but they dream on forever.

Soon we will go back to our homes and leave them alone, with none but the winds for a requiem and the silent stars for a witness, to dream on until the great "I Am" unbars the gates of sleep and crosses once again the realms of pulseless death. Some solemn day maybe when the robin in building his nest, maybe when summer is singing her sleepy songs among the golden rods, possibly when the earth is pouring her golden wealth of grain into the lap of autumn, possibly when the storm through the leafless past is raging its winter's discontent, uncertain the time but certain the event, we, too, will come into this camp of the sleeping, to go forth no more.

Let us have no fear. Let us live the lives of true knights, let us not forget the Jew Nazareth. We know how to conquer an enemy; He has shown us how to conquer ourselves, and in conquering ourselves the future can hold no fear.

Death is but a harmless masquerader, the grave but a grand, sad, terrific cheat. They wreck the builder—not the temple; they steal the singer—not the song; they strike down the sculptor—not the image; they hide the doer—not the deed. They hold the form we once clasped close to our breast, they hold the eyes we once looked into when life seemed one glad sweet song; they hide the genial smile, the friendly hand, the kindly ways, but their deeds, their deeds are left behind, our common heritage, which no grave on earth can hide, no masonry of tomb of sepulcher can hold.

By our assembling here we wish to show that the dear departed dead are not forgotten. We have not forgotten them; He will not forget them. The words we speak will pass away, the flowers we strew will fade, the shafts we erect over their silent forms will in the shadows crumble and the flitting of the years beat them into dust, but the promise of the Jew of Nazareth is a monument to all countless dead that will be standing when the graves give them back and the trumpet of the Archangel shall sound the last roll call of "I am the resurrection and the life."

Let us not forget when the eyes of our dear ones close in the last great sleep and their lips grow silent with the eloquence of death that the Jew of Nazareth hath further said: "He that believeth in me though he were dead yet shall he live."

And let us so live that when our summons comes, whether it finds us up the Eastern slope where the hours still lay away the bruised and battered armor, east aside the fearless lance and spotless plume of a blameless knight, and pass out of the twilight of this world, through the gateways of a greater dawn, into the presence of Him that was the Jew of Nazareth, of Him who is now the Knight of Knights and the King of Kings, and who is still saying: "Whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die."

Famous Anagrams.

Of all the extravagances caused by the anagrammatic fever when many years ago it was at its height, none comes up to that of a Frenchman named Andre Pujon, who, discovering in his name the anagram Poudin (the seat of criminal justice in the province of Auvergne), felt bound to fulfill his destiny, committed a crime in Auvergne and was actually hanged in the place to which the anagram pointed.

Among the papers of William Chdys, the bibliographer, was found the following anagram on himself:

In word and will I am a friend to you, And one friend old is worth a hundred new.

The Father Pierre de St. Louis became a Carmelite monk on finding out that his lay name, Ludovius Bartoloni, gave the anagram Carmelo se devotus, and Sylvester, in dedicating a translation of Du Bartas to his sovereign, made the following anagram:

"James Stuart—A just master."—Minneapolis Journal.

Trapping an Elephant.

"Elephants are easily trapped," said a zoo keeper, "very easily trapped and very easily tamed. The trapper chooses a spot popular with elephants and digs a hole five feet deep and twenty feet square. He surrounds this hole with a high board fence except in one place, where he hangs a swing gate. Next he finds a herd of elephants, chooses the animal he wants, maddens it and makes it chase him. The man tears along on his nag, the elephant thunders close after, and just at the gateway the man swerves to the right, but the elephant, too heavy to swerve, bangs right on through into the hole. He's mad at first, terribly mad. But they give him no food or drink, they build around the pit fires of damp wood that almost suffocate him with smoke, and they daze and stupefy him with shouts and banging of brass pans. The elephant is completely broken and subdued in three or four days. He comes forth and follows the trapper humbly and timidly, with tears in his eyes."

A Boy and a Thousand Dollars.

A New York judge gave his son $1,000, telling him to go to college and graduate. The son returned at the end of freshman year without a dollar and with several ugly habits. At the close of the vacation the judge told his son that he had done all he could for him. If he had wasted the money that was to have taken him through college, he might as well leave home and make his own way in the world. It was a rude awakening for the young man, but he knew that his father was right. And so strong was the good influence of his upright father that he did leave home to go to work in downright earnest. He went back to college, made his way through, graduated at the head of his class, studied law, became governor of the state of New York, entered the cabinet of the president of the United States and made a record for himself that the country will not willingly let die. It was William H. Seward.

The London Police Whistle.

What is the most powerful weapon a man can carry against the possible dangers of nocturnal London? For general utility and for special emergencies you cannot—at least such is one night rambler's experience—beat the ordinary police whistle. In addition to its services as a cab caller—one for a growler, two for a hansom—there are times, happily extremely rare, when it may prove a tower of strength. One such occasion the writer can recall. About two hours after midnight in a quiet byway. An agitated elderly gentleman at an open door, which he is afraid to enter. The lock has been forced, and within may be—burglars! Have you seen a policeman? No. But three blasts on the whistle and the deserted pavement swarms with them. From every corner one arrives, and the house is surrounded. The home going citizen knows not by what forces he is encompassed till he sounds that whistle in his or some one else's emergency.—London Standard.

When the Snuffbox Went Round.

A curious characteristic of the earlier days of civil life was the almost universal practice of snuff taking and its very slow replacement by the use of tobacco. It was part of a gentleman's education to manipulate a snuffbox elegantly, and the possession of a number of costly specimens of these receptacles was indispensable, explaining why snuffboxes of every variety in gold, silver, enameled and jewel encrusted, are nowadays so largely found among the curiosities of the collector. There were snuffboxes kept full in every room in the clubhouse, and the frequent call for it by an irritable old member was one of the hits in Bulwer Lytton's play "Money." The supply of snuff was made gratis to members. The cost amounted to £20 or £30 a year, and as the indulgence in tobacco in this form gradually gave way to that of smoking the expenditure was thought unnecessary.—Fortnightly Review.

STRANGE ADVICE!

Dr. C. G. Green gives alert personal attention to his great humanitarian contract.

In our Almanac for many years past we have given unusual advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. We have told them if they did not receive any special benefit after the use of one 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. We did not ask them or urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in the advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchial or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

MRS. M. J. CALDWELL.

—The children's day exercises at the Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon was largely attended. The exercises were good and reflect much credit on Mrs. G. W. Daily, whose efforts have been untiring for the past two weeks.

—The musicale given by Miss Louise Kearns, Friday evening was good, and well attended. The piano solo by Miss Lula Bruce McNamara and her reading by Miss Julia Carpenter deserve special mention. The audience was carried away with their work. Miss McNamara's interpretations are something divine. She breathes into her music lofty supernatural ideas and each selection tells a story as beautifully, delicately and passionately as an artist. She lives with and for her music and the appeals she makes to the human heart, thrill her hearers far stronger than words. Miss Carpenter's word painting brings you face to face with the scenes and characters she is depicting and you do not have to draw on your imagination to fancy you are a spectator to what is going on. She is qualified with a little practice to grace the dramatic stage as one for whom Kentucky would be justly proud. The pantomime, "The Bridge," was well rendered by Miss Louise Cray, in fact the entire entertainment was far above the average musicale.

—"Ash Woodland," the handsome country home of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Rankin, was the scene of a most brilliant reception Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6, when Mrs. Rankin entertained about 200 of her lady friends from Millersburg, Paris, Lexington, Carlisle and Cynthiana. The guests were met at the door by Miss Katherine Rankin, daughter of the hostess. They were ushered into the presence of the receiving line which was in the parlor by Mrs. Joel M. Moe. The receiving line was made up of Mrs. O. R. Rankin, hostess; Mesdames John Grimes, Millersburg; N. H. McKinney, Carlisle; Nurthcott, Peters, and Van Deren, Cynthiana. From here they passed into the drawing room, the mantle being heavily banked with pink and white roses and a large dish of La France roses adorned the frappe table. From thence they passed into the reception room, where they were registered by Mesdames I. D. and A. S. Best. Lastly they passed into the dining room, which was softly illuminated with pink candles in silver candleabra; the center of the table on a handsome piece of Mt. Melic work stood a large cut glass vase of LaFrance roses. Delicious cream and cake, in pink and white, were served, prepared by Hughes, of Lexington, and served by his caterer. The music was furnished by a Cynthiana orchestra which was stationed in an alcove in the hall. The color scheme was pink and white, which was carried out in everything. The hostess was handsomely gowned in white imported lace over white silk. The gowns of those who assisted in entertaining were handsome. The following assisted in entertaining: Mesdames Berry Bedford, Mattie Hawes, W. G. Dailey, Chas. Martin, Misses Bettie Tom Vimont, Mary Armstrong, Maggie Clark, Louise Boulden, Sadie

Hart, Virginia Wright, Little Miss Alice Grimes and Emma Bedford.

—Some bargains in lawn swings at PEALE COLLIER & CO.'S.

—Miss Judith Fleming, aged 72, and niece, Mrs. T. F. Fleming, aged 23, died, the latter at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, the former at 1 o'clock Friday morning. Mr. T. F. Fleming was married to Miss Emma Linville last November and brought her to the home of his aunts, Misses Judith and Ella Fleming to reside. For several years she has been a frail, delicate girl. In February, she went into a decline and that dread disease tuberculosis began to manifest itself. Several weeks ago, on account of the failing health of Miss Judith Fleming, she was taken to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nimrod Linville, at Ruddles Mills, where she continued to grow worse, dying at the hour named. Funeral services Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Ruddles Mills by Prof. C. C. Fisher, assisted by Rev. G. L. Kerr, burial in Fleming lot in Millersburg cemetery. She united with the Christian church at Millersburg several years ago, and has always lived a consistent Christian life.

Miss Judith Fleming was born at Flemingsburg in 1835 and belongs to one of the most prominent historic families of Fleming county. She has many relatives holding high positions in this and other States. She was a most estimable Christian lady, having united with the Methodist church when but eleven years of age. Many years ago, she with other members of her family, moved to Millersburg where she has since resided. She was brilliant, though rather timid and retiring. Her remains were laid to rest by the side of the newly made grave of her niece and other members of the family in the Millersburg cemetery Saturday afternoon, after appropriate services at the Methodist church by her pastor, J. W. Morris, assisted by Prof. C. C. Fisher and Rev. G. L. Kerr. She leaves three sisters, Miss Ella Fleming and Mrs. Hutchcraft, of this place and Mrs. Bass, of Louisville, who have the sympathy of the entire community in their double loss.

Opp. Winter Co.
JEWELERS & SILVERSMITHS,
OPPOSITE COURT HOUSE

Dr. Landman, the oculist and aurist, will be at Mrs. R. M. Harris' corner of Fourth and Pleasant streets, Tuesday, July 2.

Prominent Minister Dead.

The Rev. Dr. T. T. Eaton, pastor of the Walnut street Baptist church, and editor of the Western Recorder, died Saturday at Grand Junction, Tenn., following a stroke of apoplexy which he suffered during the night while on his way South to lecture.

Cottage Sold.

Mrs. Louis Hooze sold her residence on Vine street, Saturday, to Miss Lucy Miller, for $2,500.

Banks Make Good Showing.

On the fourth page of this issue will be seen the semi-annual statement of the Agricultural, Deposit, Bourbon and Farmer's Bank, of Millersburg. Each of these old reliable banking houses makes a good showing.

BIRTHS.

Born on Sunday, June 30th, to the wife of Gilbert Thompson, a daughter, Francis E. Thompson.

A Beautiful Gem.

Mr. A. J. Winters showed us yesterday, one of the largest and most beautiful diamonds we ever saw. It was indeed a gem. When he placed it on our desk we were about to pick it up, when he said the price was $5,500 we nearly fainted and gently took our hand away, regretting with a sigh we could not reach.

Why do all cooks and housekeepers prefer to use E. F. Spears & Sons' Red Cross Flour? 8-tf

Court Day.

There was a very small crowd in town yesterday, in fact, it didn't equal a good Saturday crowd. A few small sales and no trading worthy of mention.

Cold drinks at Varden's Soda Fountain. Everything first-class.

Announcement.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Milda McMillan and Mr. Joe Varden has been made. The wedding will occur July 20th. The bride-to-be is the handsome daughter of the late Dr. J. T. McMillan. The prospective bridegroom is a popular young druggist of this city.

Bar Gives Banquet.

The bar of this city gave a banquet Saturday night in honor of Judge R. L. Stout. The table was set in the dining room at the Windsor Hotel and for several hours a most enjoyable time was spent.

In the absence of Judge Harmon Stitt, who was on the program for toastmaster, Mr. N. C. Fisher was elected to take his place, and well did he fill it.

Judge Stout, the guest of honor, was first called upon and paid high tribute to the members of the Paris bar. Hon. W. H. McMillan, Hon. E. M. Dickson, Judge Denis Dundon, County Attorney Moore and several others responded to toast. Each speaker spoke of Judge Stout in most complimentary terms, saying that he had grown upon our people since his first visit, and that it was now conceded by all that his honor was a fair, impartial and painstaking Judge and a manly man.

The banquet adjourned about 10:30.

Reduced Prices.

We are offering greatly reduced prices on wall paper put on the wall for this month we are also offering close prices on porch and lawn furniture, hammocks and North Star refrigerators. J. T. HINTON.

Rogers-Ryan.

Mrs. Ida Barton Rogers, of Lexington, and Mr. C. J. Ryan, of Covington, were united in marriage at Cincinnati last Wednesday. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. Josh Barton, of Millersburg, and the widow of the late Roseberry Rogers. The groom is a wealthy bachelor of forty years, who is a wholesale shoe merchant of Chicago, but makes his home in Covington. The happy couple are in the East on their bridal trip.

Big Poultry Show.

At the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington last year was the best display of poultry probably ever seen in the South. It was the most interesting feature of the exhibition. This year even greater attention will be devoted to poultry and the show, like last year's will be under the management of the Blue Grass Poultry and Pet Stock Association. Handsome quarters will be provided on the ground leased by the Fair Association from the Gibson estate, so that the display will be more accessible to the visitors. A liberal appropriation has been made and excellent classification provided, and one of the most competent judges in the country will be brought to Lexington to pass on the awards. Lovers of poultry and pigeons should not miss this feature of the Blue Grass Fair.

Will Offered For Probate.

The will of the late Thos. Fisher was offered for probate yesterday. He devised one-third of his estate to his wife with all personal effects; one-third to his sister and one-third to his brother. At her death it is to revert to his lawful heirs. His estate consists of 100 acres of land in Union township.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hooze will shortly move to Louisville to reside.

—Miss Alice McGinley, of Cincinnati, is the guest of relatives in this city.

—Mrs. Earl Ferguson will entertain the Friday Bridge Club Friday afternoon.

—Miss Mollie Childs, of Lexington, is guest of her sister, Mrs. Georgia Spears.

—Mr. Frank O'Neil, Jr., will leave Saturday for a business trip to Philadelphia.

—Miss Katherine Price, of Winchester, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Evelyn Buck.

—Mr. Fredrick Wallis, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Clay, Sr., left Friday for New York.

—Miss Nora Napier returned home from Covington, after a pleasant visit to friends in that city.

—The Young Men's Club will meet and give a banquet at the Christian church Friday, July 5th.

—Wm. Davis, of Pittsburg, Pa., has returned home after a few days visit to his mother, Mrs. Frank Davis.

—Strother Mitcheil, of Allen, Kas., was the guest last week of his aunt, Mrs. E. K. Thomas in this county.

—Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Funk and the former's sister, Miss Margaret Williams, left for a two-weeks' stay at French Lick Springs.

—Misses Margaret and Helen Morrison, of Charleston, W. Va., arrived yesterday afternoon to visit the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Butler.

—The Ladies Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians gave a delightful literary social last Wednesday evening. Refreshments were served.

—Mother Superior Ambrose and Sister Lecasta, of the Convent at Armstrong, Fla., are guests of the former's brother, Mr. John Maloney, on Walkers Avenue.

—Mr. Ralph Nippert and sister, Miss Clara Nippert, who have been guests of their uncle, Mr. Phil Nippert, Sr., have returned to their home in Pittsburg, Pa.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Webb, James A. Stewart and Jos. H. Ewalt will leave today for Saratoga, N. Y., to attend Grand Encampment of Knights Templar of the United States. They go on a special train with the Maysville commandery.

—The Carlisle Advocate says: "Sherman Stivers, the hustling representative and correspondent of the Lexington Herald and Gazette was in the city last week, soliciting advertising for the Home Telephone Directory shortly to be issued here. Sherman is a good correspondent, quick to see an item and the gift to enlarge upon it, making a column out of five lines."

—Mrs. W. R. Scott gave a beautiful card party Thursday afternoon in compliment to the several card clubs. The home on Second street was very attractive in its decorations of pretty garden flowers, palms and ferns. Mrs. Scott had for her guest for the day Mrs. C. G. McAllister, of Lexington, who received with her. Mrs. Scott wore a beautiful gown of French embroidery and Mrs. McAllister was charming in a gown of shaded silk. Punch was served during the afternoon, at this both Misses Mary Woodford and Georgia Rion presided very gracefully. Three prizes were given, Miss Cordie Parker winning the first, Mrs. Lewis Rogers, second, and Miss Emma Scott Third. Ices and cakes were served after the game. Mrs. Scott's guests were:

Messdames T. E. Ashbrook, R. B. Hutchcraft, Henry Butler, Frank Clay, John Brennan, Louis Hooze, Bismark Frank, Robert Goggin, Wm. Hinton, Jr., Mrs. Moore, Chas. Barnett, Roy Clendenin, Clark Barnett, Denis Dundon, John Bower, Mrs. Haynes, Chas. B. Erringer, Earl Ferguson, Hume Payne, James Ferguson, Hugh Montgomery, Vol Ferguson, June Payne, Watson Judy, Walter Kenney, Bruce Miller, Frank Lowry, Clay Howard, Thomas Buckner, Ben Woodford, R. W. Meeter, Wm. Remington, George W. Stuart, Albert Miller, Warren Rogers, Lewis Rogers, Curtis Talbot, T. H. Tarr, John Talbot, Ed. Tucker, Mason Talbot, J. T. Vansant, W. L. Yerkes, W. C. Ussery, John W. Yerkes, Jr., J. S. Roberts, J. M. Hall, R. S. Litsinger, Swift Champ, E. M. Dickson, C. G. McAllister, Cordie Parker, Mrs. Marsh, James E. Clay, and Misses Clara Bacon, Kate Alexander, Emma Scott, Mary Woodford and Georgia Rion.

Alfalfa Shows Well.

Bourbon county meadows are showing much better appearance than was shown in the crops of 1906, though alfalfa and red clover were considerably affected by the frost of April and May. Frank P. Bedford, residing on the Hume and Bedford pike, has finished cutting the first crop from a field of forty acres of alfalfa, from which he secured forty tons of hay. Red clover is much inferior to an average crop and farmers are disposed to discontinue its cultivation and plant alfalfa instead.

Telephone Co., Loses Out.

Judge Watts Parker yesterday overruled the motion of the Fayette Home Telephone Company to strike from the files the petition recently filed by Keene Lutes and others in the Fayette Circuit Court, to compel the company to restore the rates formerly charged by them and to reimburse the subscribers the full amount paid by them since the increase in the rates.

The decision was a complete victory for Judge W. H. Holt, of Louisville, and attorney J. A. Edge, of Lexington, who drafted the petition. The attorneys for the telephone company made a motion to strike the petition from the files and to compel the plaintiff to reform the petition, but Judge Parker held that the petition was legally drawn.

Earthquake Shock Recorded.

An earthquake was recorded at the Cheltenham, Md., observatory yesterday morning. The shock was greater than at Kingston, but not so great as the San Francisco earthquake.

What Mitchell Says:

Every day we hear some customer say about like this:

"Well, this certainly is the best Ice Cream Soda I ever drank" or "you can go anywhere you please and you will never get Cream like this."

If you have been eating or drinking in my store you know how good it is.

If you have never been fortunate enough to enjoy my cold drinks and Ices, you have missed real enjoyment and you can't afford to deny yourself the pleasure for the price it costs.

Yours Truly,

A Hard Debt to Pay.

"I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark, of Westfield, Iowa, "for my rescue from death, by Dr. King's New Discovery. Both lungs were so seriously affected that death seemed imminent, when I commenced taking New Discovery. The ominous dry, hacking cough quit before the first bottle was used, and two more bottles made a complete cure." Nothing has ever equalled New Discovery for coughs, cold and all throat and lung complaints. Guaranteed by Oberdorfer, the druggist. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free.

Good News to Women.

Pale, Weak, Nervous, Delicate Women suffering from those weaknesses and diseases, peculiar to their sex, will find in Father William's Indian Tea a wonderful Tonic and Regulator. It quiets the Nerves, puts on flesh, gives strength and elasticity to the step, brightens the eyes, clears the complexion and makes you well and strong again. Tea or Tablets, 20 cents. For sale by W. T. Brooks.

The Sphinx.

The word sphinx is from the Greek and means the stragler and was applied to a fabled creature of the Egyptians which had the body of a lion, the head of a man or an animal and two wings attached to its sides. In the Egyptian hieroglyphs the sphinx symbolized wisdom and power united. It has been supposed that the fact that the overflow of the Nile occurred when the sun was in the constellations Leo and Virgo gave the idea of the combinations of form in the sphinx, but this idea seems quite unfounded. In Egypt the reigning monarch was usually represented in the form of a sphinx.

A Hungarian burglar, who was once a painter of considerable repute, was ransacking a house when he came across the portrait of a very beautiful young woman which had been left unfinished by the artist. He began to add the finishing touches to the picture and was discovered hard at work by the owner of the house, who promptly sent for the police.

Too Easy.

Miss Cicero—Here is an example for you, Willie: A boy skates two miles the first day, three miles the second day, four miles the third day—Willie—Shucks! I could beat dat example wid-out half trying.—Smith's Magazine.

Reckless.

Mamma—If you had two pennies, Willie, and I was to give you three more, how much would you have? Willie—Make it dollars, mamma. What's the use of being stingy with make believe money?

Never depend upon your genius. If you have none, industry will supply the deficiency.—Ruskin.

Praise and Flattery.

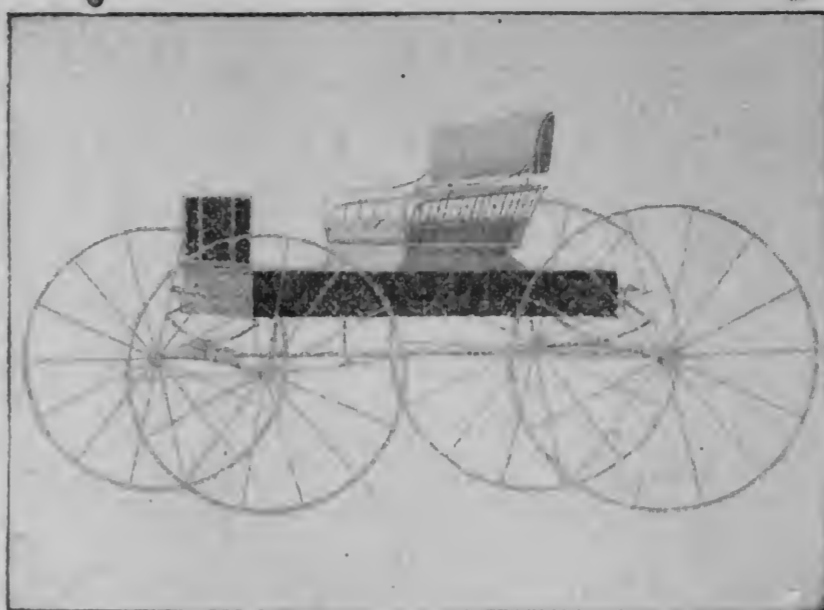

We must define flattery and praise. They are distinct. Trajan was encouraged to virtue by the panegyric of Pliny. Tiberius became obstinate in vice from the flattery of the senators.—Louis XVI.

Two Girls.

About Something To Ride In.

We would like to have you come to our repository, examine our vehicles carefully and get our prices before going or sending money to some other point for vehicles. We do not agree to sell any vehicle for $25 to $50 less than it is worth, as some firms advertise, nor do we guarantee goods for an unreasonable time. We do, however, guarantee our goods to be exactly as we represent them, to be worth every dollar we ask for them and we are here to fulfill the guarantee that the factories place upon them. We also agree to furnish any grade of vehicle as cheap or cheaper than that same grade will cost anywhere else. We handle such goods as have proven themselves good and if you buy from us you may rest assured you have the full value of your money. Give us a call.

Cures Blood, Skin Diseases, Cancer—Greatest Blood Purifier

If your blood is impure, thin, diseased, hot or full of humors, if you have blood poison, cancer, carbuncles, eating sores, scrofula, eczema, itching, risings, and bumps, scabby pimply skin, bone pains, catarrh, rheumatism, or any blood or skin disease, take Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.). Soon all sores heal, aches and pains stop and the blood is made pure and rich. Druggists or by express $1 per large bottle. Sample free by writing Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. B. B. B. is especially advised for chronic, deep-seated cases, as it cures after all else fails.

Williams' Carbolic Salve With Arnica And Witch Hazel.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, bruises, Scres, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Chapped Hands, and all skin eruptions. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25c by druggists.

WILLIAMS' MFG. CO., Props., Cleveland, O.

He Fought At Gettysburg.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., who lost a foot at Gettysburg, writes: "Electric Bitters have done me more good than any medicine I ever took. For several years I had stomach trouble, and paid out much money for medicine to little purpose, until I began taking Electric Bitters. I would not take $500 for what they have done for me." Grand tonic for the aged and for female weaknesses. Great alternative and body builder; sure cure for lame back and weak kidneys. Guaranteed by Oberdorfer, the druggist. 50c.

Just Like Paying Rent.

We will furnish you money at 5 per cent. to buy you a home, or off that mortgage, then you get the money like paying rent. See representative of Standard Trust Company, Fordham Hotel, Tuesdays and Fridays, from 1 to 7 p. m. 10-11

A Significant Prayer.

"May the Lord help you make Bucklen's Arnica Salve known to all," writes J. G. Jenkins, of Chapel Hill, N. C. It quickly took the pain out of a felon for me and cured it in a wonderfully short time." Best on earth for sores, burns and wounds. 25c at Oberdorfer's drug store.

Appendicitis

Is due in a large measure to abuse of the bowels, by employing drastic purgatives. To avoid all danger, use only Dr. King's New Life Pills, the safe, gentle cleanser and invigorators. Guaranteed to cure headache, biliousness, malaria and jaundice, at Oberdorfer's drug store. 25c.

A Hard Debt to Pay.

"I owe a debt of gratitude" that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark, of Westfield, Iowa, "for my rescue from death, by Dr. King's New Discovery. Both lungs were so seriously affected that death seemed imminent, when I commenced taking New Discovery. The ominous dry, hacking cough quit before the first bottle was used, and two more bottles made a complete cure." Nothing has ever equaled New Discovery for coughs, cold and all throat and lung complaints. Guaranteed by Oberdorfer, the druggist. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free.

Good News to Women.

Father William's Indian Tea, Nature's Remedy, is becoming the most popular Female Remedy in use. Pale, Weak, Nervous, Delicate Women suffering from those weaknesses and diseases, peculiar to their sex, will find in Father William's Indian Tea a wonderful Tonic and Regulator. It quiets the Nerves, puts on flesh, gives strength and elasticity to the step, brightens the eyes, clears the complexion and makes you well and strong again. Tea or Tablets, 20 cents. For sale by W. T. Brooks.

The Sphinx.

The word sphinx is from the Greek and means the strangler and was applied to a fabled creature of the Egyptians which had the body of a lion, the head of a man or an animal and two wings attached to its sides. In the Egyptian hieroglyphs the sphinx symbolized wisdom and power united. It has been supposed that the fact that the overflow of the Nile occurred when the sun was in the constellations Leo and Virgo gave the idea of the combinations of form in the sphinx, but this idea seems quite unfounded. In Egypt the reigning monarch was usually represented in the form of a sphinx.

A Hungarian burglar, who was once a painter of considerable repute, was ransacking a house when he came across the portrait of a very beautiful young woman which had been left unfinished by the artist. He began to add the finishing touches to the picture and was discovered hard at work by the owner of the house, who promptly sent for the police.

Too Easy.

Miss Cicero—Here is an example for you, Willie: A boy skates two miles the first day, three miles the second day, four miles the third day—Willie—Shucks! I could beat dat example wid-out half trying.—Smith's Magazine.

Reckless.

Mamma—If you had two pennies, Willie, and I was to give you three more, how much would you have? Willie—Make it dollars, mamma. What's the use of being stingy with make believe money?

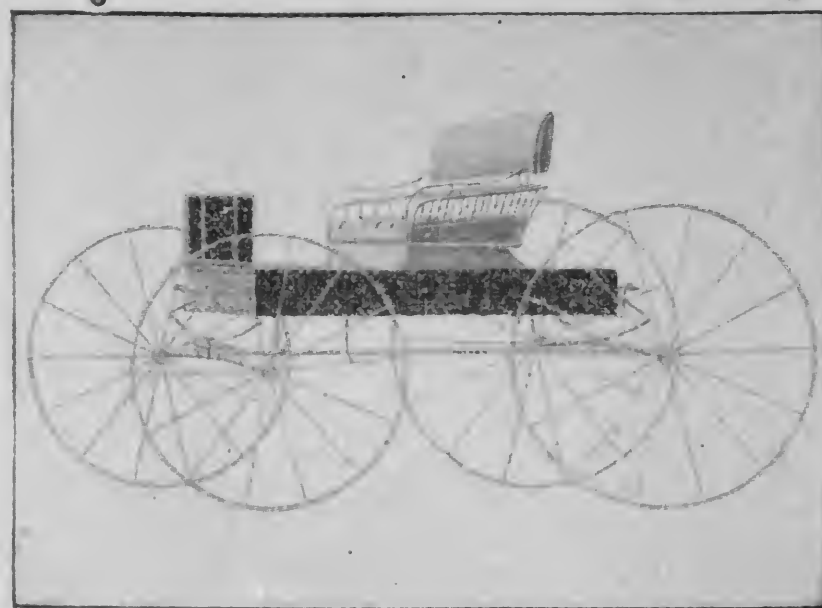

Never depend upon your genius. If you have none, industry will supply the deficiency.—Ruskin.

Praise and Flattery.

We must define flattery and praise. They are distinct. Trajan was encouraged to virtue by the panegyric of Pliny. Tiberius became obstinate in vice from the flattery of the senators.—Louis XVI.

Rats Are Ivory Experts.
The ivory dealer pointed to a half dozen rats gnawing among the yellow heaps of tusks and ivory fragments in the street.
"They are quite tame, you see," he said. "Why shouldn't they be so? The fact is, they are on my payroll. They work for me. Their wages are a pound of cheese and a loaf of bread a week."
"Ivory dealers like rats, for rats are ivory's best judges, and without their help we should often want a higher price for a bad tusk than for a fine one."

He took a fragment of ivory from the floor and pointed to certain small furrows in its surface.
"The rats did that," he said. "Those furrows are a proof of the ivory's excellence. Rats gnaw the ivory that contains animal glue, or gelatin, a substance it is that makes ivory excellent, yet a mere man can't tell whether a tusk contains it or not. The rats can tell. They are ivory experts."
—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

There Would Be a Vacancy.
"Genius is never appreciated in the lifetime of the man who possesses it," said the poet disconsolately. "Milton, Shakespeare and all the other men who have made our literature what it is—how much were they esteemed when alive?"

"Cheer up, my boy!" said his easy going friend, who had no need for soliloquy. "You'll be appreciated some day."
"Tablets have been put on the houses where they spent most of their lives, but that is of no moment to them. I wonder whether even that will be done for me? I suppose not. I shall leave no vacant place."
"Yes, you will. I can see the inscription in my mind's eye now."
"And what do you think will be inscribed upon it?" asked the poet, brightening up a little.
"Tooms to Let," replied his friend.
And the poet pined away.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Worst of Education.
When the new and the old school meet, there is likely to be a clash of opinions, and so the miller, Brown, found the other day when Farmer Jackson sent his young son across to the mill with a sack of corn which he wished ground into meal. Like the miller, the mill was of the old, leisurely school, and only a tiny stream of meal trickled out. The young man waxed impatient.

"What a mill!" he said, with scorn. "Why, I could eat the meal quicker than this ramshackle old concern of yours can grind it!"
"Aye," said Miller Brown, "but how long couldst keep it up, lad?"
"Till I starved!" was the trenchant answer.

And when Miller Brown had puzzled out the inwardness of the remark he concluded that lads nowadays were "gettin' a power too sharp w' their tongues."—London Express.

The Scotch Sabbath.
An English artist, traveling professionally through Scotland, had occasion to remain over Sunday in a small town in the north. To while away the time he walked out a short way in the environs, where the picturesque ruin of a castle met his eye. He asked a countryman who was passing to be so good as to tell him the name of the castle. The reply was somewhat startling. "It's no' the day to be asking sic things!"

Another good story of Scottish observance of the Sabbath is told by a clergyman. "A minister of the Kirk declared in public that at a country hotel he wished the window raised so that he might get some fresh air, but the landlady would not allow it, saying, 'Ye can hae no fresh air here on the Sabbath!'"

The Way to Wareham.
Some young women in England have begun to dress out and out like men. They wear a long coat cut like a hunting coat, a cap, riding breeches and top boots. It is a handsome costume, and it is not immodest, but undoubtedly it attracts a good deal of attention. They have been telling in London a story about a girl who adopted this riding rig. Pulling up her horse one afternoon, she said to an artisan who was passing, "Can you tell me if this is the way to Wareham?" The man looked her over carefully, then he touched his cap in a respectful manner and replied, "Yes, miss, yes—you seem to 'ave got 'em on all right."

How Bismarck Kept Up Steam.
In the evening I went to Bismarck's house. I was placed upon the sofa in front of a table covered with teneups and bottles of beer and also with herrings and oysters. His new highness (Bismarck) speedily arrived and sat down by me. He began by consuming innumerable oysters, herrings and ham and drank beer with soda water.—Hohenlohe Memoirs.

His Great Failing.
"He's a good friend of yours, isn't he?"
"Oh, only medium."
"What do you mean by medium?"
"Oh, he listens while I tell him all of my troubles, but he also wants me to listen while he tells me all of his."
—London Telegraph.

A Good Deal Worse.
"I had to walk the floor all night with the baby. Can you think of anything worse than that?"
"Yes; you might have married out in Greenland, where the nights are six months long."

There is nothing commonplace which could not be made to appear humorous if quaintly expressed.—Goethe.

Peculiar Suit.

James Smith and Mrs. Catherine Harrison lived neighbors to each other in Lexington. Mrs. Harrison planted some canna near the dividing fence, which was close to Smith's window. The flowers grew so tall that Smith claimed they shut out the light and air from his window and cut some of them, and cut the strings by which others were tied to the fence, allow them to fall. She sued him for one thousand dollars damages and the jury gave her a verdict of half that amount.

Beckner Wins In Higher Court.

The Court of Appeals Tuesday set aside the judgment rendered by Special Judge W. O. Harris in the Clark Circuit Court, disbaring Judge William M. Beckner for a period of two years upon finding him guilty of conduct unbecoming to be used in an English court, criticising Judges and officials of Kentucky courts.

A Tough One.

The Lexington Leader tells of a Fayette county farmer who thought his potato field was infested with moles and went out with hands armed with grubbing hoes to make war upon them. Upon investigation it was found that the motion of the ground was caused by big potatoes turning over to make room for the others to grow.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a tea-spoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address:

Defense Scores.

The defense sprang a surprise in the Haywood case at Boise Saturday by introducing as a witness Morris Friedman, a former employee of the Pinkerton detective agency at Denver. Friedman swore that a part of the agency's business was to smuggle spies into the miners' unions, and he named various fugitives who had succeeded in joining unions. Other testimony was offered to discredit the story of Harry Orchard.

Important Decision.

The Court of Appeals has decided a case of vital importance to non-residents who have property in trust in this state. The court says where a nonresident has notes, stocks and bonds in the hands of a fiduciary or agent in any city or county of this state the property must be assessed for taxation in the city or county where the fiduciary or agent resides.

Frances Murphy Dies.

Francis Murphy, the temperance lecturer, died at Los Angeles, Cal., at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning. He first came into prominence as a temperance advocate in 1876. Under his leadership a blue ribbon propaganda resulted in thousands of men signing the "Murphy Pledge," and attracting national attention.

Two More Battleships.

Secretary Taft Saturday awarded contracts for the construction of two twenty-thousand-ton battleships, one going to the Newport News Ship Building Company for $4,000,000, the other to the Four River Ship Building Company, Mass., for $4,377,000.

Gov. Hoke Smith.

The Hon. Hoke Smith was Saturday inaugurated Governor of Georgia. The oath of office was administered by Chief Justice William H. Fish, of the Supreme Court, before the joint session of the two branches of the Legislature.

Has To Pay.

The Court of Appeals affirmed the judgment against James Hargis and Ed Callahan in favor of Mrs. A. Marcum, amounting to $8,000 and says that it failed to find an error in the record. Mrs. Marcum sued for the murder of her husband, James B. Marcum at Jackson.
